

The diagram illustrates four mechanical systems, each consisting of a mass supported by a spring. The systems are arranged horizontally. The first, second, and fourth systems show a mass displaced downwards from its equilibrium position, indicated by a green triangle. The third system shows a much larger displacement, with a long vertical line of circles above the mass, suggesting a significant upward displacement or a different state of the system.

NoisyNet DQN

Policy (Karthikeya27adv23)